

we are
Founders, Investors and Managers

We hold consulting mandates with major industry players and engage in active investments in growth ventures

– to integrate the best of both worlds –

At CBR, we hold consulting mandates with major industry players, develop companies through mid- to long-term interim management arrangements and invest in young ventures to accelerate growth.

We believe in the combined value of strategic advisory and hands-on growth venture investments. We hold innovation to our core and advise companies through the lens of the entrepreneur and management as well as its investors and shareholders.
